Challenge

- | + Tracking growth of specific firms over the next 10 years
- | + Implementing discipline and continuous training
- | + Engaging the local community
- | + Supporting rapid expansion and growth
- | + Determining and tracking processes

| Success Metrics was approached by customer BJC HealthCare of St. Louis Missouri to support a rapid expansion project that required the help of the local construction community. The project, estimated $1 Billion over ten years, required a learning environment to be established to teach those involved locally how to do business in the healthcare sector and thrive. Furthermore, there was a need to track each company's growth for the next 10 years and provide continual discipline and training. Success Metrics, having migrated over to Office 365 in the previous year, devoted a month's work of research to the project before deciding that LMS365 Cloud would be the best option. It supported their existing Microsoft investment and would work well with the company's growing size of 120+ users. Additionally, training content was already available and no additional migration was necessary.

“ I was searching for a solution that was intimate, cost effective and worked within my current Microsoft environment. I researched for about 1 month on my own and found LMS365. ”

Solution & Results

- | ELEARNINGFORCE Americas guided Success Metrics through the implementation process of LMS365 in the cloud and helped establish the learning environment that addressed their needs and the needs of their customer. In the short-term the company will focus on the project with BJC but then look to expand and use LMS365 Cloud in their other nationwide projects that have a similar need under its new division Success Metrics. The company uses LMS365 Cloud to deliver training in the form of videos, PowerPoint and voice recordings.
